FLOORS CUT TO SIZE

Made-to-measure flooring by Pergo

ReadyFit® is a unique new service offered by Pergo.

Laminate and vinyl floors are cut to size, based on the designer's plan, and delivered ready for installation. ReadyFit eliminates the need for cutting planks during installation, leaving the site free from noise and dust. It will not only save you valuable time – the result is a perfect, high-quality finish that you expect from Pergo.

It's easy as 1-2-3!

1: design

In order to get your design into real life, just send us your digital design file (AutoCAD or Revit) including all details and measurements.

2: production

Based on this digital information all planks of your laminate or vinyl floor are cut to size. Every detail in the floor is included, such as radiator tubes, corners, curved walls and accessories. Each plank is then labelled with a number corresponding to the numbers on the installation plan.

3: installation

We deliver the new floor, with all planks pre-cut to size, along with all necessary accessories to the installation location. On the installation plan you can see where every part fits, and the order in which to install them. Instead of spending time on measuring, cutting and fitting floor planks, your installation is done in no time and completely hassle-free!

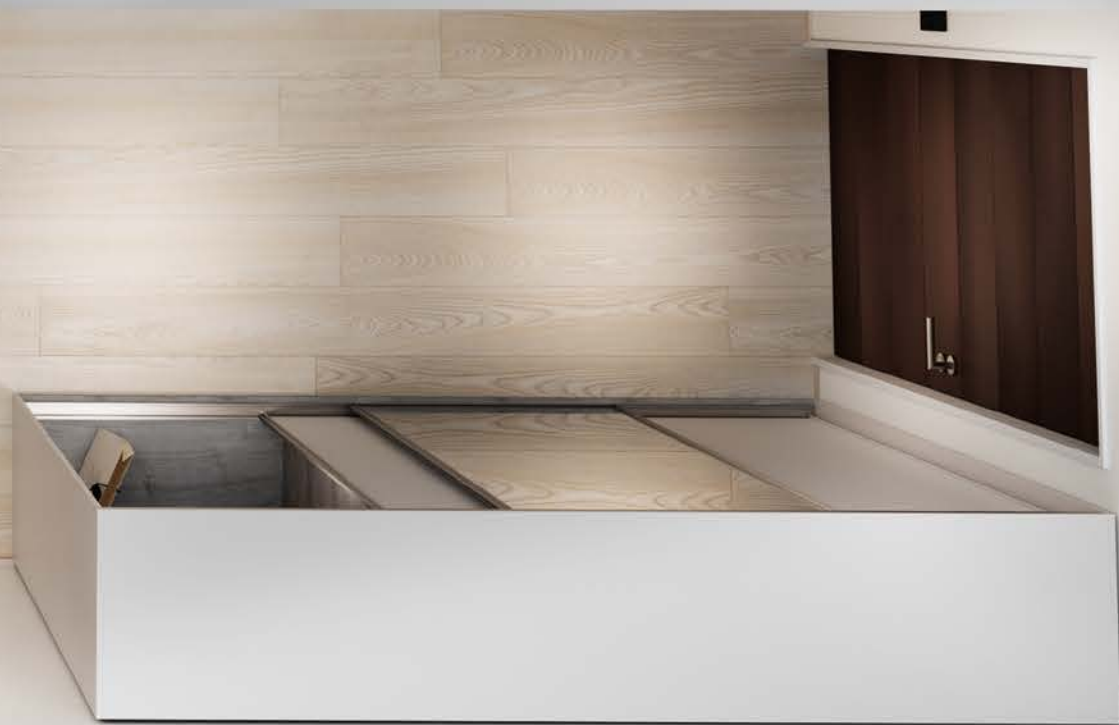

A new way to install flooring

With ReadyFit installation will be faster and more cost-efficient. There is no need to measure and cut planks at the installation site, and you are free from dust and noise. Just follow the easy steps of the installation plan and click the floor into place!

With every part being numbered and with clear, easy-to-follow directions nothing can go wrong. All the accessories you need are included in the delivery, so preparation is kept to a minimum.

ReadyFit also means a perfect fit. All planks are cut by machine, producing a high-quality finish. You don't have to worry about cutting mistakes, or ordering excess material to compensate for adjustments.

READYFIT - FLOORS CUT TO SIZE

retail, shops & showrooms

Good business for retail

For retail chains and showrooms the ReadyFit service is used to create a uniform look on all locations with the same design and finishing quality. ReadyFit is also ideal for renovations. Once a site is measured, the only thing you need to do is choose a new floor design. We will take care of the rest, and deliver the prepared floor with an installation map and all accessories, to the shops or showrooms.

modular building

Constructing efficiency

ReadyFit offers great savings in the construction of modular buildings where time is of the essence. Based on an architectural plan, the prepared floor and all accessories are delivered directly to where the modular unit is being built. Having the floor prepared to exact specifications not only makes installation faster. It also ensures a high-quality finish.

hotel

Please don't disturb

Renovating hotel rooms often means losing revenue. But ReadyFit can reduce renovation downtime to a minimum. Once the measurements for a room are known, replacing it is easy. Just pick a new design, and the floor along with all accessories will be delivered along with an installation plan. Installation is free from dust and noise and won't bother other guests. If done during the day, the room can even be rented out the very same night!

The inventor of laminate flooring

Pergo has been in the business of designing durability for more than 40 years. We know the importance of beautiful, practical flooring better than most, and we love the thrill of a new challenge. Over the years, innovative thinking has broadened our portfolio and today we are proud to offer one of the most comprehensive product ranges for residential and commercial projects worldwide.

In 2012 Pergo joined forces with UNILIN and became a part of Mohawk Industries. Mohawk is the world's leading producer and distributor of quality commercial flooring, with a heritage of craftsmanship that spans more than 130 years. As a part of Mohawk Industries and UNILIN, Pergo has the reach and resources to take commercial projects from dreams to reality, as a reliable partner on a global scale, while still focusing on the signature innovation, performance and durability that has built the Pergo brand.
